

Winter Breaks in Perthshire

One of Scotland's favourite Winter destinations, Perth city centre is a popular choice for shopping, eating out and being entertained! Join us as we switch on the lights of Scotland's newest city and celebrate with live music, a chocolate festival and a cultural event for the entire community. Think everything from foodie fountains to knitters circles, singing brownies to chart-topping stars. While you're here, why not stop for a bite of lunch, take part in one of the fantastic markets on offer or book into one of the spectacular Christmas shows, pantos or concerts? Pick up our Festive Markets in Perthshire Itinerary for more details.

Self-Catering

There are many self-catering options in Perthshire, from city centre luxury apartments to lodges overlooking lochs, mountains and hillsides, a perfect home from home experience awaits you and your party. Check out the perthcity.co.uk website to find neat little cottages sleeping two people up to majestic castles for thirty or more.

Hotels

Hotels for every break and every budget; that's what you'll find when you're booking your holiday in Perthshire. Well-known chains sit alongside independent boutique hotels offering choice at all levels including the ultimate five-star experience from the world famous Gleneagles Hotel.

Guest Houses

If it's a personal touch you enjoy on a short break in Scotland then look no further than a Perthshire guest house. Spread throughout our beautiful city and countryside, you will find a fantastic mix of styles, prices and accommodation types with many owners boasting locally sourced Perthshire breakfasts.

Camping and Glamping

The modern day alternative to a B&B, camping has enjoyed a resurgence of late and brought with it the new glamping experience. Here in Perthshire we have everything from wigwam pods by the river's edge to shepherd's huts in the Highland hills. Visit www.perthcity.co.uk for details.

Hostels

Forget the rundown hostels of yesteryear, Perthshire boasts a choice of award-winning hostels providing budget-oriented, sociable accommodation with many of the comforts of a traditional B&B. Rooms can be private or shared, with cooking facilities or breakfast available as your own choice.
